THE RUMMAGE SALE last Friday was quite successful, with the money taken in turned over to the Gordon Kimmel's for their home. Inglewood's Plan To Join West Basin Explained

In order that all interested parties may be currently informed regarding proposed membership in the Metropolitan Water District for Inglewood and so-called adjacent territory through annexation to West Basin Municipal Water District, the following information was revealed this week by district officials.

Tentatively, the area under consideration for annexation includes the City of Inglewood and two unincorporated island parcels within the city; the first being the Inglewood Park Cemetery and the second being the Ross-Territory situated in West Inglewood between Manchester and Century boulevards. Also under consideration is the unincorporated (adjacent) territory, roughly enclosed within boundaries as follows: Beginning at the intersection of 132nd and Western avenue, thence east to Vermont avenue, north to Manchester boulevard, west to Normandie avenue, south to 95th street, west to Halldale avenue, south to Century boulevard, west to Denker avenue, south to 104th street, west to Western avenue, south to 108th street, west to Gramercy Place, north to Century, west to Van Ness avenue, south to Imperial boulevard, east to Western avenue, and south to 132nd street. The clear intent expressed in the tentative approval of the Metropolitan Water District to the annexation proposed is that no island parcels be left out and that boundaries of the adjacent territory be co-terminous with Los Angeles city limits to the north and east, and with present boundaries of West Basin Municipal Water District to the west and south.

Annexation to West Basin District and Metropolitan can only be accomplished as a result of a favorable majority vote cast at a special election by voters of the annexing area. As of this date there are 20,440 registered voters in the city of Inglewood, 244 in Ross (island territory), and 9,359 in the so-called adjacent territory, or a total of 30,043 now qualified to vote on the proposal if tentatively defined boundaries are confirmed. There are no qualified voters presently residing in the aforementioned Inglewood Park Cemetery (island) territory.

There are 82 regularly established voting precincts in the city of Inglewood, three precincts in Ross and the adjacent territory includes Howard precincts Nos. 1 to 48, inclusive, plus portions of Moneta precincts Nos. 2 and 5. Population of the entire area including Inglewood is estimated at approximately 55,000. Assessed valuation has not as yet been determined.
